THE BLAIRMORE ENTERPRISE, THURSDAY, AUGUST 11, 1927.

MR. MOSER'S PUPILS MOST SUCCESSFUL

The results of the examinations of violin pupils of Mr. W. H. Moser are just to hand and are indeed encouraging. Of the twenty-seven pupils examined, twenty-seven passed, fifteen with honors, three of the fifteen with first-class honors.

It is pleasing to note the continued success of Miss Verduin Leigh, of Cowley, who last year won first place in the Dominion in Grade II. This year Miss Leigh has attained first place in the Dominion in Grade III, and has been awarded the Dominion medal.

The pupils examined recently are as follows:

Hillcrest and Blairmore: Honors—Joe Jasbee, Cecil Johnson, Willie Kyle, Jennie Makin, Robert Cruickshank, Rinaldo D'Amico, Mary Davies, Willie Mackie, Joe Morgan; first-class honors—Glady's Rhodes. Pass—John Ferstay, Bessie Davies, George Tonks, Catherine Rose, Helen Rose, Willie Worobec, Anglin Young, Ricardo D'Amico, James Marshall, Joseph Saad.

Cowley and Pincher Creek: First-class honors—Verduin Leigh. John Colough; honors—Fred Higginbotham, Laura Freebairn, Ernest Gridland, Willie Nelson; pass—Eileen Hyslop, Albert Colough.

The mine rescue car is at present stationed at Blairmore.

GEORGE ALDERSON FATALLY INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Friends of Mrs. Alderson and family, former residents of Beaver Mines, are grieved to learn of the accident, near Exeter, California, which has taken as a toll the life of George, 12, and seriously injuring John, 16. The Exeter paper gives the following report of the accident:

"Death brought to an abrupt and tragic end a family picnic last Tuesday afternoon, when George Alderson, 12, son of Mrs. Flora Alderson, of near Exeter, was killed and his brother John, aged 16, possibly fatally injured, in a collision between a small car in which they were riding and a Santa Fe passenger train, at the Matchin crossing, north and east of Exeter.

"The automobile, driven by John Alderson, was crossing the tracks eastbound when caught by the locomotive. Both boys were thrown out, being tossed over 50 feet by the impact of the collision. George died less than two hours after, at the Exeter hospital. John was taken to the Seneca sanitarium, where he is suffering from a fractured vertebra, a broken shoulder and other injuries."—Pincher Creek Echo.

LOST—Two ladies' purses, containing $1.75, between Bare's Ranch and Poverty Flat on the Lundbreck road, on Saturday, August 7th. Return to Mrs. Best at the Gap.

PYTHIAN SISTERS' PICNIC

Say! Boy! Wasn't that some picnic put on by the Pythian Sisters on Wednesday afternoon at Burns' Creek. At one time it looked as if the picnic was going to be spoiled by the rain, but when the good Lord looked down upon all the lovely Sisters and the kiddies enjoying themselves, and then thought, well what a shame to spoil all this, it passed on.

Foot races, sack races, cricket, baseball, etc., oh boy! The sad feature of the sack race was that the sacks were a little too narrow for several of the Sisters to get into, but this is intended to be remedied at the next picnic by providing special dressing room of a pressing nature—very sad, indeed. Bro. Hales made a splendid bull cook. The baseball game was almost ruined by Bro. Bob Gray, owing to his very unfair decisions. This is very surprising considering that he claims to have umpired the world's series at the North Fork in 1852. Had it not been for Bros. Meffan and Royle, who possess great and extensive knowledge of the game and whose advice was the means of the game being brought to a satisfactory finish, it would have ended in a riot which no doubt would have required the services of Chief Spence and the fire brigade to quell. With the exception of these small items, the picnic was a most enjoyable affair, the grand finale being a splendid repast—all sit squat—lemon pie for dessert—and tale-telling and several of the old stagers relating how they were pining and fading away for want of a little love. One good ice bag carried on the head is a good and sure cure. That's all.

PICKERING—HOLT

A very pretty wedding took place in Holy Trinity church, Medicine Hat, on June 30th, when Miss Sarah, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Holt, of this city, became the bride of Mr. J. W. Pickering, second son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Pickering, of Spokane, Washington, the Rev. Father Barwell-Walker performing the ceremony.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, and looked very becoming in a dress of white georgette trimmed with silver, with hat and slippers to match, and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. She was attended by Miss K. Attrill, also of this city, who looked very dainty in a dress of pink georgette with hat to match and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was supported by Mr. E. Womersley, of Blairmore.

Mr. and Mrs. Pickering will make their future home in Redcliff—Medicine Hat News.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Cosmopolitan hotel, at which one hundred and forty guests attended. A dainty wedding supper was partaken of. Following the supper, on behalf of the members of the 31st Battalion band, Mr. Pickering was presented with a beautiful mantle clock, with the following inscription: "Presented to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pickering by the 31st Battalion band on June 30th, 1927."

Mr. Pickering was a former resident of Blairmore.

Born, at High River, to Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Coughlan, on Saturday, July 30th, a son.

Janisfall's tax rate for 1927 has been set, at 45 mills—general 24, debenture 4, school 17.

Rev. Wilkinson, formerly of Pincher Creek, was formally inducted as pastor of the United church at Strathmore on Friday last. Rev. A. D. Richards, B.A., of Calgary, presided, assisted by Rev. Dr. Shearer, of Knox United church, and Rev. W. T. Young, of Cushing Memorial church, Calgary.

TO WATCH PADDING OF TEAMS SEEKING TROPHY

The following letter from the trustees of the Brewery baseball cup shows that in future padding of teams will not be possible in playing for the trophy:

"Calgary, Alta., Aug. 2, '27. Manager Lethbridge Baseball Club, Lethbridge, Alberta.

Dear Sir,—I understand that you have put the challenge for a series of games with Claresholm for the Brewery trophy. Have you arranged a game as yet? I wish here to point out that the stewards will not permit the bolstering up of teams playing for this trophy any more. The series will be called off and the trophy called in if teams do not live up to the regulations laid down in the Deed of Gift. Therefore it is to be hoped that we will have your co-operation in seeing to it that each club plays its regular figured team. I would suggest that a player must be a bona fide player of the club for at least 30 days before he is eligible to play, and further that any player who this year has played for the trophy, either defending team or challenging team, who will be unable to participate in any more games this year. We refer particularly to Siler and Walker, who went with Claresholm as challenging team against Fernie. They should not have done so, and if they had would have been informed that they could not do so, legally or otherwise.

This is submitted to you for your information and guidance on future games.

Yours truly,
S. S. SAVAGE.

NEW REGULATIONS FOR ANGLERS

The catch limit per day of cut-throat, rainbow, Loch Leven and Dolly Varden trout has been reduced to twenty, according to new regulations for the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan. This limit applies also in the case of grayling and Rocky Mountain whitefish, while the limit for other fish is as follows: Lake trout, 10; perch or goldeyes, 25; pike or pickerel, 15; bass, 5. In the case of perch and goldeyes, no one shall catch and retain more than 25 of either species or of both species than will in the aggregate number more than 25, the same regulation applying to pike or pickerel.

ROYAL PARTY IN ALBERTA

H.R.H. the Prince of Wales and his brother, Prince George, arrived at the former's Alberta ranch near High River yesterday, where they will spend about five days. Premier Baldwin and party proceeded on to Banff and will return to Calgary tomorrow for the civic reception. Addresses of welcome will be delivered by Hon. R. G. Reid, acting premier, and Mayor F. E. Osborne, of Calgary. It has been planned to broadcast these addresses and Premier Baldwin's reply through radio stations CFAC at Calgary and CJCA at Edmonton.

Fred Houghton left on Saturday last for Calgary, where he has secured a position with the Riverside Iron Works.

Nanton Elks' lodge is arranging to build a bungalow, which will become the property of the individual who holds the lucky number when the drawing is made. As the arrangements are not yet completed, definite information regarding the building is not available, but somebody will get it—Nanton News. In this connection, a Blairmore ticket holder has already applied to the C.P.R. for a special freight rate on that Buggalow to Blairmore.

RAYKO—CLARICOATS

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the United church on Sunday last, when Miss Millicent, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Claricoats, became the bride of Mr. Mike Rayko, of Wardner. The bride, who wore a lovely dress of peach crepe de chine with hat to match and carried a spray of carnations and sweet peas, was given away by her father.

The bridesmaid, who is the sister of the bridegroom, wore a lovely dress of cocoa brown, and also carried a spray. The best man was Mr. O. G. Frankhanel, of Kimberley.

Among the guests present were the brother and sister of the groom, from Passburg, Alberta, where his parents reside; also a sister from Granum, Alberta; with her husband and baby. Mr. and Mrs. Rayko will reside in Wardner—Kimberley Press.

Hanna's mill rate for 1927 has been set at 86; hospital 9, school 45, supplementary revenue 2, general municipal 30.

Modern style is gradually playing into the hands of women and girls. They need not stay away from dances and parties because they have nothing to wear.

DEATH OF MRS. CHAS. BEEBE

The death of Mrs. Charles Beebe occurred at midnight on Friday, July 29th, at St. Vincent's hospital, following a general constitutional breakdown. She was 73 years of age and was one of the early pioneers, being one of the Connelly family. Her brothers, Robert and A.T., predeceased her in recent years. Her second husband, Mr. Charles Beebe, was one of the earliest and well known characters of the cattle country, and her first husband, Mr. Connelly, and also a son having died prior to that time.

The funeral was held from St. John's church on Sunday at 3 p.m., the Rev. Adams-Cooper conducting the service.

Interment was made in the English church cemetery.—Pincher Creek Echo.

CHAPTER V.—Continued

Helmi sang as she did everything else, without the slightest trace of self-consciousness. She stood in the doorway with her hands behind her, and to the gray-haired ladies who listened she seemed like the embodiment of hope and youth and aspirations as she sang in her deep voice:

"Keep on sowing when you've missed your crops,
Keep on dancing when the fiddle stops,
Keep on faithful when the curtain drops,
And you'll get there in the morning."
"Keep on trusting in the cause of right,
Keep on looking to the dawn of light,
Keep on fighting till you've won the fight,
And you'll get there in the morning."

CHAPTER VI.

Helmi's lessons went on, she could answer the telephone on an ex-plain in course English, that Miss Moore is sweet, or "Would you please wait one minute," followed by "Thank you very much."

"A civil tongue, Helmi," Miss Moore had told her, "may not take you as far as a pretty face, but it will take you along a safer road."

Helmi lived for the days she had her lesson. In the atmosphere of elegance and beauty she felt herself expanding, like a Japanese warbler. Even the smell of her friends' house was luxurious. Miss Moore's house smelled of soap, clean clothes, moth balls, and soup with onions to its pleasant enough. In her own home, course, was, but the Doctor's house smelled—Helmi could not find one word to describe it. She had not noted the name delicious odor in a shop in Heidelberg before she called. It was of flowers in winter time, a rich smell, with that impalpable hint of luxury which was so dear to Helmi's heart. Some days she rode in the car with her new friend, revelling in the soft gray plush cushions and the sparkling glass vase at the side, which the Doctor kept filled with fresh carnations. Even the floor of the car had a velvet carpet, and a light came on in the roof by merely pushing a button! Helmi tried to write a letter home telling about it, but in the hard working world at home, with its meagre vocabulary, there were no words to tell of such magnificence. There was only one word to cover it all, and that was English, and if she had written home the Finnish equivalent of that word, it would have misled people to think the car had sustained a bruise or had contracted mumps.

Helmi had to learn new words, for she was experiencing new thrills each day. Miss St. John took her once a week to the Moving Pictures Theatre, where Helmi sat spell-bound and dazzled. From the time she entered the enchanted place until she came out again into the sunlight she knew nothing of the real world. Watching the pictures she came up the state seeing no one, conscious of nothing, stumbling on the steps without knowing there was a step, or that she had stumbled, following her friend vaguely to a seat, and sitting perched on the edge until some indifferent person behind her told her to sit down and let somebody else see, with an impatient "What is the matter with you, anyway?"

The world Helmi entered through the green plush doors, laid hold on her impressionable young heart. She saw lovely ladies in trailing beaded dresses and shining jewelry, leaving their elegant homes to go with their lovers, and smart young stenographers wearing sleek coats and hats they could clap on their heads and always look just grand, and who married the old man's wayward son and saved the old man's business from ruin by listening at the door when the bad men were plotting. Then there Helmi determined she would be a stenographer.

Sometimes when riding on a street car Helmi would pick out some weather-beaten old business man with a very broad chin she believed might be her future employer. It became her delight to give up her seat to such, rather to their discomfort. She felt it only right that she should pay them this little attention. She wondered greatly about the sons of these men—so much would depend on the son.

After that her teacher could not keep enough words ahead of her. Helmi kept a list of words planned over the sink while she washed dishes, and in between her moments of attending to the real business of dish-washing she practiced her sentences:

"The lady is beautiful.
She has an elegant coat.
Will you go for a drive?
Have a chocolate?
I adore chocolate."

Miss Moore, who tried to help on the good word of Canadianizing this young person who had come to our shores, wrote on her sheet—"Honesty is the best policy."
"Civility costs nothing."
"Evil communications corrupt good manners."

And these Helmi faithfully copied, but they left her cold. Indeed, she said herself in good Canadian that Miss Moore's sentences were dumb bells!

Further attendance at the pictures brought home another fundamental truth—the lovely lady is always for given—indeed, she can do no wrong. She may appear to do wrong, but someone else is really to blame. She found this to be true with the Doctor and his wife. The Doctor loved her even when she scolded him, pleaded with her when she scolded, laughed at her extravagance though pretending to be horrified, bore with all her moods and rages. Helmi knew it was because she was so beautiful. Everyone said the Doctor's wife was such a lovely lady.

No wonder Helmi now decided against stenography. She would be a lovely lady! And the words and sentences which appeared on the wall were inscribed with this resolve.

Helmi was struggling with the lesson on the berry, in the Third Reader. "He is an amphibious animal," she read, "living both on the land and in the water." She looked inquiringly at her teacher, whom she knew, without looking up, was regarding her intently.

"Pshaw, Helmi, a girl with eyes like yours doesn't need to know about amphibious animals. Close the book—that will do for today. I want to talk with you. Life is a dull place anyway—we have to take what thrills we can. I get a thrill out of you some way, you are so young and promising. Now, I am going to have a party. The Doctor is going East in a week. I have my parties when he is gone, because my parties and my friends bore him to tears. So we set the dates to suit. And besides, his mother is coming to visit us soon, and I want something new. You're the newest thing I know, and so I want you at my party."

"I have no clothes," began Helmi, "for style party."
"Listen, Helmi, I have the clothes, cloths, full, and I know just how to dress you. You won't need to talk, so don't worry over your English. You'll be a young Finnish lady visiting Canada, the Prime Minister's niece, and my friend, in Moscow. I asked you to look after you. Your father is a shipping broker, and you are on your way to Vancouver to join him. We'll fool them, and when they are all raving about you, and wanting to dance with you, in your delightful broken English you will beg them to excuse you—you are so tired. You will slip upstairs, change back into your maid's dress, and come down and help Maude to serve. Now, come and let me try on your clothes. You are going to be a symphony in green, Helmi—there's no color so dazzling as green. Maude dreams, red raves, but green stays. You're to be a singing goddess!"

Helmi's eyes were dancing at the thought of such a thrilling adventure, and when in the region of enchantment upstairs in Mrs. St. John's room, the walls of white were pale green brocade, satin, the hangings of the same, and the rugs so plush green that they reminded her of the loveliest moss she had ever seen, she found herself looking into the glass at a beautiful girl in a creamy green clinging dress, silver slippers, red earrings and necklace, a marvelous cloak a shade deeper than the dress, and lined with flame-colored satin that glimmered and shone. It was all just like a fairy story.

World Reading Shakespeare

Library in England Has 20,000 Books in Different Languages

The Shakespeare Memorial Library at Birmingham, England, has nearly twenty thousand Shakespeare books, the largest collection in the world, and the library is a kind of index of the world's Shakespeare is being read everywhere.

The demand for translations comes from all quarters of the globe and even in China they are reading Shakespeare increasingly.

Every new edition and every new translation is represented in the Birmingham Library, and in the last twelve months three hundred and twenty-two new volumes were added in thirteen languages.

Strange House in India

The strangest house in the world is probably one in Jeypora, India. Besides its peculiar architectural appearance it boasts of being a huge musical instrument. When the wind is blowing it produces beautiful notes. The material used in the structure was a porous stone of very light weight. The wind playing upon the various openings acts as if upon reeds.

"Feyther," said little Mickey, "wasn't it Patrick Henry that said 'let us have peace'?" "Niver," said old Mickey, "Nobody by the name of Patrick ever said anything like that."

It takes a very conciliatory man to enjoy his work when the pay is small.

Aviator Had Narrow Escape

Frenchman Fell Headlong Nearly Four Miles Before Parachute Opened

After a headlong fall of nearly four miles from space, a French aviator, Jean Van Laere, suffered merely from a rush of blood to his head caused by the dizzy drop.

Van Laere's parachute failed to open when he leaped from his plane at an altitude of 7,000 metres and remained shut until by some miraculous atmosphere shock it suddenly opened when he was 100 metres (about 330 feet) from the earth. The aviator's fall halted abruptly and he dropped safely down into a tree, in the forest of Carnelle, near Beaumont-sur-Oise, over which he had been flying.

Stunned by his long fall the aviator, who had regained lucidity and was able to give an account of his aerial adventure.

Van Laere was making a test flight from Villacoublay flying field. Flying over the field, he climbed to a height of 7,000 metres when his respirator for some reason stopped functioning.

While choking in his efforts to adjust the respirator, Van Laere said he lost control of the plane and decided he would have to jump to save himself. He succeeded in leaping clear with the parachute, but when it failed to open he believed that he would be killed.

"I am astonished to find myself alive," said the aviator.

The plane was found totally demolished and almost wholly buried under the ground a few hundred yards from the spot where the aviator landed.

Airplanes Outdo the Birds

Able To Make Much Longer Non-Stop Flights

Falcon-maid wings have eclipsed the feathered species. Lindbergh's non-stop flight was 3,610 miles. The distance flown by Chamberlin and Levine is estimated from 3,900 to 4,000 miles. The longest non-stop flights of birds have been those of Alaskan plovers from the Aleutian Islands to Hawaii, a distance of 2,400 miles, and the annual migrations of golden plovers from Newfoundland and Nova Scotia to the Laysan Islands and the northeastern coast of South America, a distance of 1,700 to 2,200 miles.

A Modern Scarecrow

Radio has been introduced as the newest farm implement by Gustav Schmitz, owner of a large orchard near Hornburg, California. Despairing of saving his valuable harvest of apples and pears from a cloud of voracious sparrows, unimposed by ordinary scarecrows, he installed a loud speaker in the orchard, and, at the announcer's first words, the winged pests, red, terrorized, never to return.

There is no objection to people's thinking what they like—just so their thinking isn't done out loud.

Enlightened Red Men

Old Time Indian Chiefs Who Were Loyal To The Government

Western newspapers are liberal in their praise of Chief Thunderchild, who died on his reserve near Saskatoon a few days ago. He is said to have been the last of the old-time chiefs, and as such signed one of the old treaties in the seventies by which the red man surrendered his prairie domain to the advancing whites.

Thunderchild illustrated how fortunate Canada has been in its relations with the aborigines. He was one of the chiefs who refused to join Riel in the Rebellion of 1885, and remained loyal to the Government with which he had made a covenant a few years earlier. The organization of the Northwest Mounted Police in 1874 was a wise move by the Canadian Government, and the Indians soon learned the value of the force as a protecting agency for them.

Crowfoot, the wise Chief of the Blackfoot tribe, near the foot-hills, expressed well the view of the enlightened Indian when he signed the Blackfoot Treaty in 1877. "The police had not come to the country, where would we be now?" he said. "The men who were killing us so fast that very few indeed of us would have been left today. The police have protected us as the feathers of a bird protect it from the fangs of winter."

Crowfoot, too, refused to join in the rebellion, and he welcomed the railway as the natural instrument of the white race which in the Canadian West had befriended the natives who had to give way to new conditions.—Toronto Globe.

Miller's Worm Powders are a prompt relief from the attacks of worms in children. They are powerful in their action, and while leaving nothing to be desired as a worm expellant, have an invigorating effect upon the youthful system, removing fever, biliousness, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, and other ailments that follow disorders caused by worms in the stomach and bowels.

Gold Reserve Well Protected

Underground Vaults in Bank of England Are Burglar Proof

Although workmen engaged on the new underground vaults of the Bank of England, which are all of Great Britain's gold reserve will rest, are guarded from prying eyes by armed policemen, some details have leaked out regarding what is said to be the world's hardest job of safe cracking. Evidently the present bank's concrete walls fifty feet deep and seven feet eight inches thick. If anybody with foolhardy intentions were to tunnel through these he would have to pass a passage patrolled by guards and protected by every known alarm system around, all four sides of the treasure.

Once in this passage way the crackman would have to cut through double grates of steel. The next step approaching the swag of several hundreds of millions of dollars in gold would be to cut through doors of solid steel weighing 24 tons each. This would take very costly drills, and the hands of experts at least three days. These doors can be swung with light pressure of one hand, if they are open. When they are locked it is different.

Recognized as a leading specific for the destruction of worms, Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator has proved a boon suffering children everywhere. It seldom fails.

Something To Be Proud Of

Britain Holds Envious Place in Long Distance Flying

The British record in long-distance flying is something to be proud of. We have to our credit the first conquest of the Atlantic both by airship and aeroplane, the long array of Empire flights by Sir Allan Cobham, and the magnificent non-stop attempt to India which synchronized with Colonel Leckie's Atlantic crossing. Yet, a great extent, because we are without the air for self-advertisement which is a conspicuous possession of some other nation, Britain's reputation abroad is tending to become that of an indignant porcupine in the air, and pessimistic critics at home are talking and writing as if we had fallen into a position of hopeless inferiority.

A Clerical Error

A clergyman—who had given up his former position as a justice of the peace in order to enter the pulpit—was conducting his first marriage service.

"Do you take this man to be thy wedded husband?" he asked the bride.

The bride answered eagerly: "I do."

"And you," he continued, addressing the bridegroom, "what have you to say in your defense?"

For Either the Newborn Babe Or the Growing Child

There is no other medicine to equal Baby's Own Tablets for little ones—whether it be for the newborn babe or the growing child. The Tablets always do good. They are absolutely free from opiates or other harmful drugs and the mother can always feel safe in using them.

Concerning the Tablets, Mrs. John Armour, R.R. 1, South Monaghan, Ont., says: "We have three, fine healthy children, to whom a medicine is needed. We have given only Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are the best medicine you can keep in any home where there are young children."

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the stomach and bowels; banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fever and make teething easy. They are sold by medicine dealers or direct by mail for a box from "The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Diarrhoea Summer Complaint HE ALWAYS USES

Mr. T. F. McGee, McLennan, Alta., writes:—"Over forty years ago my mother gave me Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for diarrhoea and summer complaint. All through the years since then, when troubled with excessive looseness of the bowels I have been accustomed to take a few doses of the same old reliable remedy, and it is always seems to have the desired effect, no matter what the cause."

CARRIED WIFE TO BED

Suffered So She Could Not Walk. Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mining, Ontario.—"I am a practical nurse and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to suffering women. For three months I was almost helpless and could not sit at the table long enough to drink a cup of tea. Many a time my husband carried me to bed, I would be so weak. Then he read in the paper of a woman suffering as I did, and got better after taking the Vegetable Compound, so he went and got it for me. When I had taken three bottles I was just like a new woman and have had splendid health ever since. When I feel my bearing-down pains I always take it; sometimes a half bottle or whatever I need. It is my only medicine and I have told many a one about it. Any one wanting to know more about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I will gladly write to her. I do all I can to recommend it for I feel it saved my life and strength to it."—Mrs. NEAL BOWMAN, R.R. 1, Mining, Ontario. Do you feel broken-down, nervous, and weak sometimes? Do you have times when you feel as if you were in a horrid feeling of fear which sometimes comes to women when they are not well? Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is just the thing for you at such a time. It always helps, and if taken regularly and persistently will relieve this condition.

WHAT IS THE TRUE MEANING OF SAFETY FIRST?

(By Ed. Boyle)

As we hear so much nowadays of the phrase "Safety First," it makes one wonder whether it is merely a catchy phrase to mislead workers in any industry and the general public.

Without a doubt it is a significant phrase and means that the personal safety of all workers is paramount to everything else. It means that the workers and officials who have joined the safety first movement hold the value of human life far above profits and the value of property. It means that everything will be sacrificed to save a human life.

One has to admit that the movement has spread amazingly in all parts of the world and has been in a measure productive of much good.
That it has not been productive of even greater results is due mostly to suspicion. It may be suspicion on the part of the officials or on the part of the workers. It is suspicion on the part of the officials when they assume the attitude that "Safety First" means that safety is the first consideration after the largest possible production at a low cost. It is suspicion on the part of the workers when they think that precautionary rules and safety devices which are installed are just merely adopted to cause them to work harder to reduce their earnings.

As the basic industry in this district is coal mining, "Safety First"
will be viewed from that aspect.
Without a doubt "Safety First" not only means economy in human life but it also means in many cases economy in operation to the management and increased earnings and comfort to the worker. In the case of mine workers employed on day wage the carrying out of precautions whilst working does not effect their earnings in the least, but freedom from accidents which cause loss of time does certainly increase their earnings in the long run. Where the worker is working by contract, the same care may under certain circumstances result in a temporary, slight loss during the day or several days, but taking it all through, the earnings will equal or even exceed the average, because he will be working under better conditions and with a greater feeling of increased safety. In no instance has it been known that where rules of "Safety First" has been adopted at coal mines it has cost the workers a cent, as the cost of installing of safety devices has been met by the management. In many cases, the expenditure has proved to be a really good investment, by reducing the losses due to accidents.

To make "Safety First" rules and appliances most successful require co-operation on the part of everyone, both officials and workers. Without that the movement is a failure. Naturally, when everything possible is done to insure safety and all are giving full support and co-operation to the movement, one fact must be recognized, that no matter how perfect the rules and methods adopted may be, there will always be a certain element of danger in coal mining, especially underground, and the only way to reduce the risk or even overcome
it is by exercising continual vigilance and care.

Shop Assistant: "That is a marvelous fountain pen, Madam. It's unbreakable, fool-proof, and fills itself."
Young lady: "How awfully intelligent of it. I'm rather absent-minded, do you think it would—sort of—know its way home?"—The Humorist.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—Eighty years
hence it will be possible to drive 300 miles an hour in a completely enclous-

Low, English scientist.

The automobile will then be governed, Professor Low says, by the principles of perpetual motion, in which science is making considerable strides at American university laboratories. The professor says the motor car of the future will consume half the gasoline cars require today, will be fitted with radio telephone and television and will be so easy to operate that a driver can see says, will eventually be fitted to cars, thus enabling motorists to make

NEWSPAPER LAW

Excerpts from Newspaper Law, printed for the benefit of any reader who may have mistaken ideas regarding same:

1. A postmaster is required to give NOTICE BY LETTER (returning the paper does not answer the laws), if the subscriber does not take the paper out of the office and states the reason for its not being taken.

Any neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publisher for payment.

2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not. There can be no legal discontinuance until payment is made.

3. Any person who takes a paper from the post office, whether directed to his name or another, or whether he has subscribed or not is responsible for payment.

4. If a subscriber orders his paper stopped at a certain time and the publisher continues to send it, the subscriber is bound to pay for it if he takes it out of the post office. This follows the sound principle that a man must pay for what he uses.

Dear Editor: I am in love with a homely girl, but she doesn't seem to care for me, while a pretty girl with lots of money wants to marry me. What shall I do?

Ans.: Marry the one you love and send me the name and address of the other one.

BLAIRMORE UNITED CHURCH

Rev. J. W. Smith, Pastor

Services for August 14th.

MORNING SCHOOL at 11 o'clock. The subject for the Young People's Class will be: "The Home Base of Missions."

AFTERNOON SCHOOL at 2 o'clock. This school is especially for children under 12 years of age. The classes and work are carefully graded to meet the needs of young children of various ages. Parents are invited to bring their children. The pastor and teachers will be glad to show you the school at work any Sunday afternoon.

EVENING WORSHIP at 7.30, led by the pastor. The Young People's Choir will lead the service of praise. The story of Charles Wesley's hymn: "Jesus Lover of My Soul," will be told. This is the fourth of a series of six hymn stories. Mr. Smith's subject will be: "The S.O.S. Calls of the Soul."

The Board of Stewards met on Thursday night last, when only a few members were present. While there was no business of importance transacted, the board went into ways and means of financing and plans were discussed for future action.

The Sunday school teachers' monthly meeting was held on Tuesday night and with the exception of one or two, all teachers attended. It was decided to purchase more lantern hymn slides, suitable for singing in the junior Sunday school. Mr. Smith outlined the organization and work in connection with a Cradle Roll, which will shortly be instituted and which will be financed by the Sunday school. The report on the annual picnic was read and expenditures for same show that $2.33 over and above the amount collected by Mrs. Womersley and Mrs. Warner was spent. Other items of interest to the teachers and the Sunday school in general were discussed and future work planned.

A meeting of the senior C.G.I.V. girls was held on Tuesday evening, when the fall and winter work was discussed and the plans formulated for the future.

Miss Jean Greig has been selected as leader for the Vici girls, her duties to commence at once.

At the service on Sunday night last, the junior choir sang an anthem, which was rendered very well indeed. The duet by the Misses Greig and Fraser was also very nicely rendered and enjoyed.

Whenever space will permit, there will appear in this column a short message from the pastor. It will appear under the heading "Think This Over." The form of the message will vary from week to week, but usually it will be a quotation from some writer, and with it will be coupled a verse of poetry. Here is the first one:

THINK THIS OVER

Be cheerful.
Charles Kingsley says: "The men whom I have seen succeed best in life have always been cheerful and hopeful men, who went about their business with a smile on their faces, and took the changes and chances of this mortal life like men." Can you make the spirit of Henry Meade Bland's verse your own? It is worth trying.

I say I have lived in a joyous world;
Where every loving dream comes true;
With comfort and plenty around me curled;
Where every moment is fresh and true.

It's great! This life on the hills of Time—
To follow the gleam and still endure,
To strive in joy for the High Sublime,
And know that the way to love is sure.

—H.M.B.

An old farmer found himself travelling in the same compartment with a bishop. "Curate, are you?" he asked.

"Well," replied the bishop, modestly, "I was once."
"Drink, I suppose?" said the farmer, sympathetically.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Truth in Advertising

The merchant who put up a sign reading: "Don't go elsewhere to be cheated—try us," is probably related to the dealer who recently advertised: "Don't kill your wife; get one of our washing machines to do the dirty work."

These two merchants are second cousins to the dairymen who displayed the following sign: "Try our milk cream ain't in it."

Coleman Elks will stage their annual carnival on September 3rd, 5th and 6th.

A vocal, dramatic and instrumental concert will be held at Lundbreck tomorrow night.

"Nothing Can Stop Us."

Canada has been honored in this year of its Diamond Jubilee by another visit from the Prince of Wales. On this occasion, however, he is accompanied by his brother, Prince George, and by the Right Honorable Stanley Baldwin, Prime Minister of Great Britain.

The significance of this visit will not be lost upon the people of Canada, nor, in fact, upon the British Empire as a whole. The ease with which the people of Canada and the British Isles can exchange visits, nowdays is resulting in a more intimate knowledge of each other and the growing community of interest quite lacking not so many years ago. Now it is almost as easy for the people of Canada and Britain to visit each other as it is for Canadians in the Maritime Provinces to visit their fellow citizens in British Columbia.

The fact is this being made known to the world that Canada occupies a strategic position in the British Commonwealth of Nations, its geographical location in the Empire, constituting it the main highway between the Occident and the Orient, must inevitably result in this Dominion being the real centre of the Empire in the not very distant future. And the development of trans-oceanic travel by air will only serve to emphasize Canada's important place in the Empire.

Thus, for the first time in history, a Prime Minister of Great Britain is able during his tenure of office to leave Britain and make an official visit to one of the overseas Dominions. He could not possibly spare the time to visit any of the other Dominions. It is an epoch making event.

It is apparent that Mr. Baldwin, himself, is cognizant of what the future has in store. In an address before the Montreal Canadian Club shortly after his arrival in this Dominion, Mr. Baldwin spoke in such optimistic terms of Canada's future possibilities and greatness that, voiced by a native Canadian, would have left the latter open to possible ridicule and criticism as being bombastic.

Mr. Baldwin sees no limit to the greatness of Canada's future. "Nothing can stop you," he declared. Canada, he went on to say, must progress with the world's progress with the result that some day "Canada may be the greatest nation in the world."

Sixty years of Confederation have proven to Canadians and to the world what can be accomplished, and have established the untold possibilities of the Dominion in all those qualities and resources which go to make a nation great. Another sixty years may easily see Canada with a larger population than the British Isles, with manufacturing being carried on with a magnitude as yet only dreamed of, and surpassing in output the great industries of the Old Land, while at the same time supplying in much greater degree than today the food requirements of the world.

Canada is only now getting into its stride. It is just on its feet, and on the eve of a development and expansion in all the major activities of the world which will establish a new world's record in national growth. Canadian foundations have been well and truly laid. They are strong enough upon which to erect a magnificent structure, and it only remains for the Canadian people to realize its possibilities and devote themselves with patriotic devotion and untiring energy to the inspiring task before them.

The days of pessimism are past. There never was any real cause for them, but this jubilee year has, there is reason to believe, finally convinced the people of the Dominion of this fact. There has been a great awakening of our people, and a new national spirit has been evoked, a new confidence born, and a pride and courage developed which in a comparatively few years will work a veritable revolution in the growth of this Dominion.

Canadians will do well to keep ever in mind the slogan of the National Diamond Jubilee Committee "Canada Our Country," and to accept as their watchword the words given to them by Premier Baldwin, "Nothing Can Stop Us." In making Canada great and prosperous they will be rendering the finest-possible service to the Empire as a whole and confer benefits upon the world at large, because, above all things, the Canadians are a home loving, peace loving people. They have the true conception of the new international alliance which believes in the advancement of all peoples as the true policy of a better world.

Sheep Ranch At Invermere

A movement is on foot to develop a large sheep-raising industry in the territory about 30 miles south of Invermere, B.C., contiguous to Pelly Creek and Canal Flat. A wide-open, unfettered range lies in that part which since the cattle industry has flagged, has rarely been occupied except by wild horses common to that part.

Says Popular Mechanics Magazine, there are two sets of rollers, each consisting of four wheels, mounted on a track, installed in the highway "in the rail approach. They revolve only one way and when the automobile strikes them, as a train is approaching, they turn, keeping the car from going forward. ### An Overcrowded Country

Population Of England Is 700 To The Square Mile

It must be confessed that we dwell in an over-crowded country. The population of England, apart from Wales and Scotland, is more than 700 to the square mile. We are four times as crowded as India and nearly three times as congested as China, we are twice as crowded as Germany or Italy, and nearly four times as crowded as France. Nevertheless, since 1910, we have built some 800,000 houses at a capital cost to the public purse estimated to be about £175,000,000. All this State subsidies are being given towards uneconomic housing schemes, which fill our suburbs and encourage builders to erect ugly villas along our country roads.—B. S. ## THE BEST MEDICINE SHE EVER USED

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Highly Praised By a Quebec Lady.

Mrs. David Logan, Theoford Mines West. Que., gives unsolicited praise to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the good they have done in her family. Dr. Logan says: "I have been a user of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for many years, as occasion requires, and have always found them a most reliable medicine. My husband, who was suffering from an attack of colic, took the pills, and through them gained health and strength. My daughter was in a run-down condition, and was forced to discontinue work. Again Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were resorted to and she was soon restored to excellent health. Then my oldest boy had an operation performed for adenoids, which left him in a weakened condition. Once more Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were tried, and he was soon in excellent health. So I can truly say that more than satisfaction has been obtained by the use of this medicine. The pills have done more good in my home than hundreds of dollars worth of more expensive medicines."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills assist digestion, correct the lassitude, the palpitation of the heart, shaky nerves and the pallor of the face and lips that are the result of this impure blood.

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Movies Filmed In Rockies

Spectacular Stunts Of Aviation Over Lake Louise

The most spectacular event ever attempted in the Canadian Rockies and one which attracted every guest to the front lawn of the Chateau Lake Louise, was successfully carried out by two Canadians, ex-Royal Air Force officers, W. H. Williams and C. Bigelow, who for half an hour performed a number of flying stunts over Lake Louise and the Chateau. Zooming down on the lake and dropping from the machine in parachute, were the features of the exhibition which was staged by the Fox Film Company in connection with their film, "Pyjama." This picture, which stars Olive Borden and is directed by Jack Blystone, is now being made in Alberta.

Encourage Vegetarian Weddings

"Vegetarian weddings are being encouraged by the French Society of Vegetarians. They have organized a series of functions where young lovers of vegetables can start their courtships. Opposites may be attracted to each other say some of the leaders of this movement, but the dinner table is likely to become a battle ground if there be too great a difference in tastes.

Teaching Empire History

Primary Schools Should Have Advantage As Well As Universities

Much has been done in recent years to make young Englishmen, at all events those whose opportunities read them to the universities, reasonably acquainted with the growth of the Empire, its constitution and the methods of which it is governed or governed. But it is not sufficient that those, whether at home or overseas, who will be called upon to take a definite part in such government should be qualified to do so. Every voter should as far as possible, be so qualified. And if this is admitted, it follows that the teaching of Empire history and affairs must be in the primary and secondary schools throughout the Empire as well as in the universities.

New High Speed Ships

Will Cross Atlantic From Germany In Four and a Half Days

Vincent Astor, recently returned from Europe, brings news of interesting, high-speed transatlantic travel developed in Germany.

Within a short time German ships will cross in four and a half days. The cost of such high speed will be great even with modern diesel engines, fuel consumption going up many times faster than a ship's speed.

But two of the high-speed ships will make as many trips across the ocean as three of their fastest competitors could make. That will make up for speed cost, saving 50 per cent. in ships and crews. And short trip will draw the best paying customers, including the idle rich, to whom it does not make any difference how slowly they go. They think they are in a hurry and very busy, and willingly pay for speed.

Representatives will be sent to Ireland, New Zealand and other countries to gather material. In seeking information a questionnaire brought 15,000 replies from the district of Edinburgh alone.—New York Morning Telegraph.

Allan R. Gillies, breeder of Ayrshires and Yorkshires, Clover Bar, Alberta, has sold his entire herd of 63 head of pure bred Ayrshires to parties in Seattle, Wash., U.S. It is unusual for such herds to be sold at one stroke. ## BELIEVE THAT NAVAL ACCORD MAY YET COME Geneva.—After Britain, the United States and Japan, the United States and Great Britain, at the closing session of the tripartite naval conference. Hence there is no reason, he added, why an agreement, which has not been obtained at Geneva, should not be reached shortly as the result of direct negotiations between the two governments for a reconciliation of the divergent views.

The burial ceremony of the conference, held in the presence of a large number of guests, was carried out without the employment of words of reconciliation and as right Hon. W. C. Bridgman, head of the British delegation, said:

"We are not dispersing in a spirit of bitterness or despair."

When the conference adjourned, the day after the adoption of a joint declaration suggesting direct negotiations between the Governments, Mr. Bridgman walked up the stairs of the Hotel des Bergues, in whose hall room the last act of the naval drama was played, to the private office of Mr. Gibson and shook his colleague warmly by the hand. This was hailed as an indication that the First Lord of the British Admiralty believed the differences between the British and Great Britain, manifest at the conference, were nothing more serious than a slight family tiff.

Admiral Sato, distinguished member of the Japanese delegation, joining in the thought of Mr. Gibson and Mr. Bridgman, declared in a dictatorial address that he for one declined to view the results of the conference as a rupture of negotiations. He was convinced, he affirmed vigorously, that in some form or another, attempts to limit extravagance and competition in naval building, already limited in practice by common sense, will continue and eventually succeed.

The joint declaration, adoption of which involves automatic adjournment of the conference, represents an effort to summarize the viewpoints of the three delegations on the matters on which they agreed and on those on which they disagreed. The declaration shows that the conference was wrecked on two points.

First, that of total tonnage limitation for cruisers, on which the British and the Americans were unable to attain an accord.

Second, on the problem of so-called eight inch gun cruisers.

Rockefeller Asked To Cancel Soviet Deals

British-Grown Wheat, Oil Investment Withdrawn Is Report

New York.—The New York Herald Tribune says that an appeal to John D. Rockefeller, Jr., active head of the far flung Standard Oil empire, to withdraw from any financial deals with the Soviet Government has been made by Sir Henri Deterding, managing director of the Royal Dutch Shell Oil group, of Great Britain.

The appeal was made after the Royal Dutch group had been unable to block two large United States oil companies, members of the Standard Oil group, from entering into oil contracts with the Soviet.

In his letter Sir Henri is understood to have appealed to Mr. Rockefeller's interest in churches and philanthropic work, pointing out that the Soviet had destroyed churches and similar institutions as well as having confiscated property and nationalized all industry.

CROP CONDITIONS ARE FAVORABLE IN ALL DISTRICTS

Ottawa.—Canada's crops are in good condition. A report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics based on telegrams giving the condition of crops at the end of July shows that the crop situation in every province is favorable.

The following is the report based on individual provinces:

Manitoba: July favorable. Abundant moisture. Slight hail damage. Wheat cutting not general until late August. Much late grain. Pastures luxuriant. Heavy hay crop but low natural meadows too wet to cut. Vigorous straw growth. Promise of at least average grain yield if everything proceeds favorably and rust does not develop.

Saskatchewan: Favorable weather over the province as a whole has resulted in strong growth of all grains. Wheat, although later than last year, is reported in healthy condition with a generally even stand. Alfed by the hot weather of the past week, about 70 per cent. is now headed out. Coarse grains are also in good condition with oats coming into head. Slight traces of rust have appeared in the south and eastern parts of the province, being most noticeable along the line from Yorkton east to Weyburn, and from the north to Vank, Hail caused damage to small areas at scattered points throughout the north and northwest parts of the province. Severe damage was sustained as a result of a storm originating west of Swift Current, which travelled in a south-easterly direction and caused serious injury in the Vanguard, Kincaid and Lajure districts. Summer-fallowing is about 90 per cent. completed. Pastures are in good condition with a splendid supply of moisture.

Alberta: Crop conditions on July 31 encouraging. Wheat and barley all in head. Oats 75 per cent. headed. All grains filling well. Rye harvest started. Pastures rich and hay crop being cut. Hail damage in restricted areas. Prospects for good increase in yield over 1926. Crop conditions in southern Alberta encouraging except for danger of frost before late fields ripen.

British Columbia: All crops ripening fast. Harvesting rye well advanced. Wheat cutting commencing. Will be general in a week's time. Cereal yields will be well above average. Potatoes and roots promising. Early estimates of 80 per cent. apple crop still holds good with prospects of steady increase when harvesting completed.

YOUTH WILL BE SERVED

The youth in the high-powered car who announces his appearance before the door of his chosen one with loud and long honking of his horn, must be served. It is a free country and if the distance from his car to the door bell is too great for his poor, tired, aching feet, over-punished by dancing, why, he has a perfect right to use a modern method of communication—Kingston Whig-Standard.

Miss Vera Kafoury, nurse in training at St. Paul's hospital, Vancouver, is home on a couple of weeks' vacation.

Mrs. H. Muir and daughter Beatrice, of Medicine Hat, are guests for a few days of Mr. and Mrs. Womersley.

A story is told of Johnny, who one day last December entered the Blairmore drug store and asked for a greeting card. The clerk asked: "For a friend or relation?" He replied: "For Jean!"

A number of ladies from Blairmore attended the regular session of the Women of Mooseheart Legion at Lethbridge on Tuesday night, when the initiation ceremony was exemplified. The local ladies made the round trip on an open truck and report having had a pleasant time.

The other morning a colored man rushed into the store and said: "I want one of dem congolium cards." I asked what he meant. He said: "One of dem cards you send out when somebody done passed away." You mean condolence cards! "Yas sar, dat's what I want."

An Irishman and a Jew met in a bar and had a friendly chat over a pint or two. The Irishman presently asked the Jew how it was the Jews were so wise.

"Ah," said Isaac, "it's because we eat a certain kind of fish."

As Paddy became interested the Jew offered to sell him one for ten shillings.

After paying the money, Paddy received a small dry fish. He bit into it.

"Why," he exclaimed, "that is only a smoked herring, begorra!"

"See," said the Jew, "you are getting wise already."

HUNDREDS HAVE EYES ON PEACE RIVER REGION

Running boards packed with paraphernalia of the trail, bumpers and every sort of ingenious outwitting loaded with tents, bedding and other necessities of the camp, scores upon scores of cars from all parts of the United States and Canada have been roaring into Alberta during the last month, with veritable trains of these motor tourists heading into Edmonton with the great Peace River region as their objective.

More than two-thirds of the large number of motor tourists from the American states arriving at the Edmonton auto camp of the Alberta Motor Association desire to see the Peace River country, mainly for the purpose of settling on land. Unfortunately it is not yet possible to travel by motor from Edmonton into that section of the northwest, although the government is engaged in opening the final link of the colonization highway to the north along the southern shore of Lesser Slave lake.

Disappointment has been very keen amongst motorists when they discovered that the only way to reach the Peace River country was by train. Recently the Edmonton branch of the Alberta Motor Association in a practical way came to the rescue of a number of these tourist land seekers and arranged all details for shipping approximately forty cars by rail to McLean and other points in the north country, where excellent roads exist in all parts of that region. One car thus assisted came from far away Honolulu, and many others from various states and other provinces. The action of the Edmonton A.M.A. resulted in a tremendous saving in shipping charges to the tourists and the service will be continued as far as possible during the next few weeks. Many of the visitors, who are members of the American Automobile Association, with which the A.M.A. is affiliated, were especially appreciative of the practical help extended by the A.M.A.

Work is proceeding slowly on the government road south of Lesser Slave lake and it will be some time yet before cars are able to travel from Edmonton to Peace River.
